Luke 2:1-20 (NRSV)

In those days a decree went out from Emperor Augustus that all the world should be registered. <sup>2</sup>This was the first registration and was taken while Quirinius was governor of Syria. <sup>3</sup>All went to their own towns to be registered. <sup>4</sup>Joseph also went from the town of Nazareth in Galilee to Judea, to the city of David called Bethlehem, because he was descended from the house and family of David. <sup>5</sup>He went to be registered with Mary, to whom he was engaged and who was expecting a child. <sup>6</sup>While they were there, the time came for her to deliver her child. <sup>7</sup>And she gave birth to her firstborn son and wrapped him in bands of cloth, and laid him in a manger, because there was no place for them in the inn.

<sup>8</sup>In that region there were shepherds living in the fields, keeping watch over their flock by night. <sup>9</sup>Then an angel of the Lord stood before them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were terrified. <sup>10</sup>But the angel said to them, "Do not be afraid; for see—I am bringing you good news of great joy for all the people: <sup>11</sup>to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is the Messiah, the Lord. <sup>12</sup>This will be a sign for you: you will find a child wrapped in bands of cloth and lying in a manger." <sup>13</sup>And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying,

and on earth peace among those whom he favors!"

<sup>15</sup>When the angels had left them and gone into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, "Let us go now to Bethlehem and see this thing that has taken place, which the Lord has made known to us." <sup>16</sup>So they went with haste and found Mary and Joseph, and the child lying in the manger. <sup>17</sup>When they saw this, they made known what had been told them about this child; <sup>18</sup>and all who heard it were amazed at what the shepherds told them. <sup>19</sup>But Mary treasured all these words and pondered them in her heart. <sup>20</sup>The shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all they had heard and seen, as it had been told them.

A commonplace birth?

And so the young couple, a carpenter and his pregnant fiancé, made their way southward from Nazareth in Galilee to Bethlehem, a small village five miles from Jerusalem. There would be no welcoming delegation, no trumpets, no parades. Instead they would try to get comfortable in a room where animals were sometimes kept. There, Mary, probably only fourteen or so, would give birth. Nothing was out of the ordinary. Mary would have done what all ancient Palestinian mothers did. She would have cut the umbilical cord, tied it off, and tightly wrapped the

No Room at the Inn

When I was young, I pictured Joseph and Mary getting turned away from hotel after hotel until finally they collapsed of fatigue in someone's barn. But this is not the case.

Bethlehem was a tiny place at the time of Jesus' birth, probably too small to have any sort of public inn. Nor did the young couple probably have to find a cave to stay in. Most likely, they were taken in by one of the peasant families in Bethlehem, for all Jews were expected to take in travelers.

Most peasant homes consisted of a single large room, often with the sleeping quarters on a raised platform so that animals (the most important possessions) could be brought into house. Mary and Joseph probably had to make do with the animals' area, hence the presence of the manger (a feeding trough). Note, Luke never mentions the presence of animals though that may be simply because they were commonplace.

newborn in strips of cloth to keep him warm and to help him grow straight. Later, Mary would be visited by some shepherds bearing a most fantastical tale.

In those days, shepherds were only a step above slaves on the social ladder. Yet, they told Mary and her husband that angels had sent them to find a newborn in a feeding trough. But the angels also told the shepherds something much more remarkable. The astonished shepherds told Mary that the angels had been the Lord God's messengers, bearing the Good News, that at long last Israel's Savior and Messiah, the Lord, had been born – and this Lord was Mary's baby.

Pax Romana or Pax Christi?

Preachers will often use Luke's story of Jesus' birth to contrast the humbleness of his birth, this King of Kings, with the priorities and assumptions of our world. For example, everyone in Luke's story is poor and powerless. There are no wise men or expensive gifts, only peasants and shepherds. The important and influential of ancient Palestine are absent. All this is in keeping with Luke's larger portrait of Jesus, for Luke has more to say about the dangers of wealth than do any of the other Gospel writers.

Savior, Messiah, and Lord

God's angels announce Jesus' birth using three titles for the infant (v. 11).

Savior – God had once saved Israel from slavery in Egypt and the Jews waited fervently for a savior who would deliver them from the hated Romans. The Advent carol, "O Come, O Come Emmanuel" captures well this cry for freedom, for salvation. Luke's Gospel is written so that we understand that Jesus is not only the Savior of Israel, but of the entire world.

Messiah – This title is simply the English form of the Hebrew mashia, meaning "anointed one." Kings and prophets of Israel were anointed. The people awaited the arrival of an "anointed one" from King David's family who would usher in God's kingdom. Christos, from which we get "Christ," is simply the Greek word for "anointed one."

Lord – Earlier in his Gospel, Luke prepared us for "Savior" and "Messiah," but not for "Lord." God is the Lord! Jews used "Lord" as a substitute for God's name whenever they read Scripture. What could it mean to apply this title to Jesus? Peter makes this clear at Pentecost. We are to call upon Jesus as Lord for salvation from sin and death (Acts 2:14-41).

Yet, I wonder if we really get it, if we really grasp the gauntlet that is thrown down at the feet of the powerful by the birth of Jesus.

Jesus was born in about 6BC.<sup>1</sup> For more than two decades, Augustus, the adopted son of Julius Caesar, had ruled the empire he created. In the eastern end of the empire, he was even beginning to be worshipped as a god. Under Augustus, the empire enjoyed the Pax Romana.<sup>2</sup> To end one hundred years of civil war, Romans had grabbed onto the peace offered by Augustus. But the peace was enforced by the brutal dictatorship of Augustus, his representatives, and his legions.<sup>3</sup> So far as the Romans were concerned, there could be only one Lord, and that was Augustus!

But God's herald angels brought news of a very different peace: Glory to God! Peace on earth! This would not be a peace brought with the edge of a sword but with the birth of a child. The infant lying in the animals' manger is Savior, Messiah, and Lord. The peace the angels proclaim, the Pax Christi, is more than a feeling of rest. It is more than goodwill with our neighbors. This peace is the long-awaited salvation that has now come to earth. This peace, this shalom, is the wholeness and well-being of restored persons and a renewed creation. The Pax Christi could not coexist with the Pax Romana then and <sup>1</sup>The makers of the calendar we use miscalculated the year of Jesus' birth. We know that Herod the Great died in 4BC. Since he ordered the killing of all Bethlehem children younger than two in an attempt to kill Jesus, than Jesus must have been born prior to 4BC.

<sup>2</sup>In Rome, there was an altar to pax Augusta, the peace of Augustus.

<sup>3</sup>For example, when Jesus was about ten or so, the Romans executed thousands of Galilean Jews to put down a revolt. One can only imagine the effect such brutality had upon the young Galilean boy.

it cannot now. The world cannot be divided up into that which is God's and that which is Caesar's. Jesus' challenge to the earthly powers is as direct now than it was then. After all, what is not God's!? There is and can be only one Lord.

Scott Engle's Bible Classes

Monday Evening Class

A study of the book of Revelation

Meets from 7:00 to 8:15 in Piro Hall

This class will not meet on Dec 30

Tuesday Lunchtime Class

A study of Paul's letter to the Romans

Meets from 11:45 to 1:00 in Piro Hall

This class will not meet on Dec 31

About the weekday classes:

Join us whenever you can. Each week's lesson stands on its own. This is very "drop-in." Bring something to eat if you like. Bring a study Bible.

On occasion Scott must cancel class, so if you are coming for the first time, you can check www.scottengle.org to make sure the class is meeting.

Both classes are now recorded and are available each week in my new podcast at scottengle.podbean.com. They are also available on Apple podcasts. Search by my name, "Scott Engle."

Scott's 11:00 Sunday Class in Smith Worship Center

This is a large, lecture-oriented class open to all ages.

Coming January 12: The Real Story of the Crusades

Video of each week's class is posted here: vimeo.com/groups/scottsbiblestudy
